

Certified Trainer Model Capacity Building Model

Partnering to expand your professional learning capacity

An educational system with thousands of teachers spread across a large region needs expert support to ensure consistency and efficacy of language, message, and accurate training. NWEA® Professional Learning offers two models of train-the-trainer services for large districts and states to support using assessment and data to inform instruction as well as building responsive instructional practice. These services deliver sustainable programs over a multiyear commitment to ensure consistency and efficacy measured by our Learning Evaluation Services. NWEA can customize programs to meet partner needs and ensure partner success.
